I. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. Australia Overview

Australia is the sixth-largest country in the world by total area, covering approximately 7.7 million square kilometres (3.0 million square miles), and has a population of over 26 million people. It is both a country and a continent, as well as the world's largest island. Canberra is the capital city, while Brisbane, the capital of the state of Queensland, is one of Australia's fastest-growing metropolitan cities and a major centre for sport, culture, and international events. English is the official language, and Australia is widely recognised as one of the most multicultural nations in the world, shaped by a long history of Indigenous heritage and extensive immigration from Europe, Asia, and the Pacific.

Surrounded by the Indian Ocean and the Pacific Ocean, Australia has a coastline stretching over 25,000 kilometres, featuring diverse landscapes including tropical rainforests, deserts, mountain ranges, and coral reefs. Queensland is home to the Great Barrier Reef, one of the world's largest and most significant natural wonders and is internationally renowned for its biodiversity and natural beauty. Australia is considered a megadiverse country, with strong international commitments to environmental conservation, sustainable development, and the protection of Indigenous cultural heritage.

1.2. Brisbane Overview

Brisbane is one of Australia's principal metropolitan centres and a leading hub for government administration, commerce, and sport in the eastern region of the country. Situated along the Brisbane River, the city plays a central role in national and international events and is widely recognised for its modern infrastructure, strong sporting culture, and high standard of living.

With a population exceeding 2.7 million in the greater metropolitan area, Brisbane is a culturally diverse and dynamic city shaped by migration from across Australia and around the world. In recent decades, the city has undergone significant development, emerging as a major economic centre with strengths in education, health sciences, technology, tourism, and the creative industries. Brisbane is also noted for its emphasis on sustainability and urban planning, with extensive green spaces, riverfront precincts, and ongoing investment in environmentally responsible development.

1.3. International Airport

Brisbane International Airport is the primary international gateway to Queensland and is conveniently located approximately 15 kilometres from Brisbane’s central areas. The distance between the airport and the competition venue at Sleeman Sports Complex, Chandler, is approximately 20–25 kilometres, with an estimated travel time of 25–30 minutes by car, depending on traffic conditions. Arrivals and departures during the official competition period will be supported by the Local Organising Committee (LOC) in accordance with the schedule outlined in these Regulations.

Brisbane International Airport services a wide range of direct international flights, connecting Brisbane with major cities across Asia, the Pacific, the Middle East, and North America, as well as extensive domestic connections throughout Australia. For international teams arriving via other Australian cities, Brisbane is well connected through frequent domestic flights, ensuring smooth onward travel for participating delegations.

2026 Oceania International Invitational Wushu Kung Fu Championships Certificate of Fitness & Serological Clearance

NOTE: All pages must be read in full, and all required information in Part A and Part B must be completed for any person to participate in the 2026 Oceania International Invitational Wushu Kungfu Championships.

All combatants must provide a current Certificate of Fitness and a Serological Certificate to Kungfu Wushu Australia before registration.

PART A - CERTIFICATE OF FITNESS

The medical examination aims to identify individuals at increased risk due to pre-existing medical conditions or anatomical abnormalities. It does not prevent injuries that may occur during competition.

Combatants must also provide a Serological Clearance Certificate for participation in the Sanda event. Additionally, all combatants will be examined by a medical practitioner before and after every contest, and at any time as directed by Kungfu Wushu Australia. These examinations support the health and safety of participants.

Combatants should generally be in good health. Concerns such as excessive weight loss or obesity should be evaluated carefully but do not automatically prevent participation.

When conducting the examination, the medical practitioner should assess for conditions that may:

Reduce the ability to defend oneself, including:

- Loss of sensation (e.g., impaired vision or hearing)
- Slow or uncoordinated movement (e.g., cerebral palsy)
- Muscular or joint disease
- Balance or coordination disorders
- Easy fatigability (e.g., cardiac or renal disease)
- Chronic or periodic respiratory disease (e.g., asthma)

Increase the risk of injury, including:

- Bleeding disorders (e.g., haemophilia)
- History of multiple fractures

REGULATIONS – OCEANIA INTERNATIONAL INVITATIONAL WUSHU KUNG FU CHAMPIONSHIPS 2026

- Enlarged organs (e.g., liver, spleen)
- Undescended testes
- Loss or abnormality of paired organs
- Poorly controlled diseases (e.g., hypertension, diabetes)
- Conditions with poor healing or joint instability (e.g., collagen disorders)
- Neurological symptoms (e.g., persistent headaches)
- Previous injuries with incomplete recovery

Medical practitioners should undertake any examinations or tests they consider necessary to support their clinical judgment. Kungfu Wushu Australia does not require examination details or test results; confidentiality remains between practitioner and combatant. Only the completed Certificate of Fitness is required.
